Independent Candidate Kenn Tory

Kenn Tory threw his Sletson hat into the local political field as an Independent Candidate in the Alberta Election August 5.

Several weeks ago Mr. Tory wrote a brief, pithy letter to the Star Chronicle calling for a re-awakening of political action in this important agricultural constituency. He drew attention to the common occurrence nowadays when only a few people attend nominating conventions and representatives are re-elected without regard to their ability or their records. Some Social Credit supporters had told him they had never seen the M.L.A. and others complained they didn't even know the nominating convention was held.

The letter aroused local comment in all parties, and a meeting was called to register this decision publicly. Both present candidates were invited to democratically consider the issue. Although not supporting the idea Mr. Davison and two Liberal supporters were present, but Mr. Masson stated, "Oh, it wasn't necessary."

The committee meeting decided to hold a meeting Tuesday night, after a brief postal opinion survey was made.

Mr. B. C. Hissett, farmer of the Asot district, member of the Wainwright School Division Board, was elected Chairman, and briefly outlined the ideas behind the move.

On motion of Mr. Lewis Tory, prominent businessman of Wainwright the meeting decided to nominate an Independent candidate. Mr. Charles Stewart, president of the Buffalo Park Grazing Association and farmer of Greenhills, moved the meeting invite Mr. Kenn Tory to become the candidate.

In the positive programme to be offered the voters locally, the meeting stressed the need for a more equitable share of money from the Provincial treasury to assist local municipal financing. As one member pointed out "the sale of one parcel of oil land recently, gave the Manning government more money than the total increase in grants to municipalities this year." Mr. Tory stated he would work for a Western bloc of members for Western Canada, who, although of different parties, would stand together for Western interests.

Mr. N. Glenn V. Vallesau was named official agent.

Kenn Tory, coming from an active Liberal-party family with 7 generations in Nova Scotia, came to the Wainwright district in 1917 where his father established a popular blacksmith business. Leadership and debating ability were evident in school progress. In 1938 he made a personal tour of New Zealand to learn at first hand the reasons for that small country's outstanding accomplishments under progressive governments of all parties. At the Capital in Wellington, he interviewed the late Prime Minister Michael Savage. This trip was financed by Mr. Tory's sports interest and ability, for he organized a Canadian hockey team to tour the Australian ice arenas. Later he starred with the Camrose Maroons and is well-known for his local sport and community interests.

Mr. Tory is well known around Irma as one of the local boys who helped put the name of Irma on Provincial sport pages, back in the thirties, along with Jimmy Morrison, Arnold Lawson, the McGuides, etc. He entered the last federal election in this area in AAAA play-

Showers Honor Brides

A recent bride, Mrs. Ronald Upshaw, former Miss Norma Gullmer, was honored on Thursday afternoon of last week at a delightfully arranged shower, held in the lunch room of the school.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. S. Coulman, Norma was escorted to the place of honor behind a large three-tiered "wedding cake" which was beautifully decorated and topped by bridal dolls.

An interesting and entertaining program included a piano solo by Miss Shirley Mae Brown, amusing contests conducted by Mrs. Symington and Miss Betty Prior and a vocal trio by Verle and Gail Sampson and Dale Larson.

Following the group singing of a song composed by Mrs. Hurst for this occasion, Master Ricky Gullmer presented the bride with a silver knife and invited her to "cut the cake," the lower layer of which proved to be filled with gifts.

Mrs. Upshaw requested two junior misses, Della Mae Symington and Betty-Rae Kirkman to assist her in unwrapping and passing these and other gaily decorated parcels which were flanked by the "cake."

Many and delightfully varied were the lovely presents showered on this happy bride who very feelingly thanked her many friends for their kindness and the good wishes expressed for the happiness of herself and her husband.

The guests were then invited by the hostesses, four girlhood friends of Norma's, to partake of the delectable and delicious refreshments which were set out on tastefully flower-decorated tables. The taking of a few snapshots to record this happy event brought the afternoon to a close.

A large group of Irma friends gathered together in Hedley's Hall on the evening of Wednesday, July 16 for a bountiful miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Lorna Archibald, a bride of this week.

The hall was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells centered by an artistic wishing well flanked by vases of delphiniums.

Upon her arrival the bride-to-be was escorted to the seat of honor together with her mother Mrs. A. C. Archibald and her grandmother Mrs. J. Peterson.

Community singing with Mrs. R. O. Larson as mistress of ceremonies followed for a time and then Mrs. H. Riley organized a peanut stunt. Miss Kathleen Larson gave a solo and encore and Mrs. Chase and Mrs. B. Long had two very amusing readings. Mrs. Prosser outlined an interesting contest.

Lorna was then invited to open the host of interesting parcels which overflowed the wishing well. A pleasant task she was assisted by her four sisters, Jeanine, Vivian, Coleen and Irene.

When the gifts had all been opened and admired Lorna expressed her most sincere thanks to one and all. A delicious luncheon brought this happy occasion to a close.

Hostesses were Mrs. A. E. Knudson, Mrs. Torrance, Mrs. C. Pyle, Mrs. E. Prosser, Mrs. Fahner, Mrs. R. O. Larson and Mrs. Reber.

We understand that Lorna was given yet another abundant shower on Saturday evening, July 19 when all her friends and neighbors of the north country gathered together at Education Point School and spent a merry evening with games and entertainment.

Lorna's many friends here wish her many years of happily married life.

In 1944, although he knew less than 50 people in the city of Calgary, he was nominated to contest the Provincial election, and on his showing there, he became the CCF candidate in West Calgary Federal riding against the late A. L. Smith. K.C. Active army duty prevented his participation in the last Federal election.

RAMSAY — WAGNER

A beautiful bridal gown of chantilly lace over ivory satin was chosen by Shirley Mae Wagner for her Saturday evening wedding to Leading Seaman Donald Richardson Ramsay. Scalloped lace bodice of the gown was attached to a pearl edged marquisette yoke and matched her lace and pearl coronet. Her full length veil fell gracefully from the coronet. Impressive against the white bridal ensemble was the shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Roses, spring flowers and glowing tapers formed an attractive setting for the pretty ceremony performed in the Trinity Memorial United Church. Rev. J. J. Judd of Chilliwack officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner of Gladwin, Alberta, B.C. and the groom stationed on HMCS Sioux at Esquimalt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ramsay of Irma.

The solo, "O Promise Me," was sung by the bride's sister Mrs. Hilda Hall accompanied by Mr. L. H. Farrow at the organ.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Lily-Anne Wagner and Mrs. Hilda Hall. They were matching ankle length gowns of embossed organza over taffeta with matching headresses. Mrs. Hall was in pale blue, while Mrs. Wagner in pale yellow. Both attendants carried colorful bouquets of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Flower girl, Sheri Smiley, in pink organza, carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

The groom was attended by Able Seaman Ross Bradley and Able Seaman Vernon Rustin. Wilfred Wagner, brother of the bride, and Joseph L. Hall were ushers.

A reception followed in the Orange hall where an array of both pink and white streamers framed the wedding table.

Guests were received by the principals assisted by their parents.

The mother of the bride wore a pink afternoon dress with white accessories, while the groom's mother chose a floral nylon afternoon frock with white accessories.

Vases of roses and tapers flanked the three-tiered wedding cake which centered the bride's table.

Toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's brother, Cpl. R. Wagner who had arrived from Goose Bay, Labrador for the ceremony.

For the wedding trip to Victoria and Vancouver Island the bride donned a suit of midnight blue garb with a corsage of white carnations and red roses. Her accessories were white and she carried a salmon pink shortie coat. Mrs. Ramsay will reside temporarily in Abbotsford while the groom is at sea on HMCS Sioux.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Carl Faber and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. D. Rudolph and Miss Viola Faber, all of Saskatchewan. Mr. and Mrs. M. Miller of California. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ramsay of Irma and Mr. and Mrs. Emmott of Mannville, L.S. Ed Chadwick and L.S. Reg. Herald of HMCS Sioux and many guests from Vancouver, Aldergrove, Ioca, Chilliwack and Sumas, Wash.

In Alberta.....

Under the Rural Electrification Co-operative Association plan, operating in Alberta, the farmers are helping themselves to Farm Electrification. They are doing it at less cost than could be done in any other way—and doing it without raising their own taxes or yours either.

When it is suggested that the Alberta Government electrify all farms—free—don't forget the government will have to increase everybody's taxes to pay for it. Don't forget—everybody's taxes—farmers and others as well.

Under the present Rural Electrification Co-operative Association plan, ONLY the farmers who GET farm electrification pay for it—and they own their own lines.

TEST NEW REFRIGERATOR ON WHEELS

Montreal, July 21—A new electric refrigerator on wheels, the first of its kind on the continent, came off the assembly line at the CNR car shops recently and underwent a standing test of its icing equipment. On its running tests officials expect the temperature to dip to 10 degrees below zero. This is 15 degrees lower than the average temperature obtained in iced refrigerator cars.

A. C. Molanson, CNR chief of motive power and car equipment, said that it is the first time that a mechanical "refrigerator" car has been built with its refrigeration equipment suspended beneath it. Standard practice has been to locate it inside the car.

In addition to its refrigerating qualities, the new car also provides heat in the winter. A switch transfers power from the cooling apparatus to a bank of electric motors located in the ceiling.

The car's first running test will be between Toronto and Halifax carrying a load of fresh beef. On its return run to Montreal it will carry a shipment of frozen fish. Later this summer it will run eastward from B.C. with a load of peaches. The tests will be made under the supervision of J. L. Townsend, general supervisor of perishable traffic for the CNR.

Cool Milk and Cream Properly

Farmers in this area that sell cream or whole milk are reminded of the fact that prompt cooling of these products is essential for the production of good quality cream and milk. Bacterial action in summer months can cause rapid deterioration or souring. Prompt cooling will slow down and almost stop action of bacteria. Cooling should be done immediately after milking if you are a milk shipper and right after separation if you ship cream. Harmful bacteria work fastest at temperatures ranging from body temperature down to about 50 degrees F. The temperatures of your water supply is generally around 4 degrees F. At this temperature milk and cream keep very well and quality is preserved. Cooling these products in water will maintain their quality and bring higher returns from their sale. Another reason why milk should not be allowed to stay in barns for any length of time after milking is because it picks up animal odors. Milk should therefore be removed quickly and cooled if sold as fluid milk or separated without delay and the cream cooled immediately after separation.

National Barley Contest

Again this year as in the past the Barley Improvement Institute and the Brewing and Malting Industries of Canada are sponsoring a Malting Barley Contest. The contest is open to farmers in the malting barley areas such as this area. Only malting varieties (Montcalm and Olli for Alberta) will be acceptable and the contestant must produce one carload (at least 1667 bushels). Two farmers may go together on a carload. Attractive prizes are awarded in these contests. Entries must be in the hands of Mr. A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, Dept. of Agriculture Edmonton. Entry forms can be received from this office upon request. Farmers eligible from this area are encouraged to enter.

Some Ornamental Trees Available

Have you prepared land for trees and have not submitted an application? If so contact this office for an application immediately. The main types of trees distributed by the Federal and Provincial governments are willow, poplar, maple, elm, ash, spruce and pine. These should and always will form the major part of our shelterbelts. However the Provincial Government has a limited quantity of ornamental trees for general distribution from the Provincial Horticultural Station at Brooks. The list consists of the following: Honeysuckle, Nanking Cherry, Gensan Maple, Mayday, Flowering Plum, Red Elderberry, Black Elderberry, Russian Olive, Chinese Hawthorn, Chinese Bush Cherry, Chokecherry, Native Plum and Apple Seedlings. It is hoped that by adding a few of these to farm shelterbelts, their attractiveness would be increased. If you are interested in discussing this matter with me I would be willing to do so. We wish to encourage farmers to plant more trees, to prepare their land now and not to forget to complete that application form this summer.

Cutworm Damage Precautions

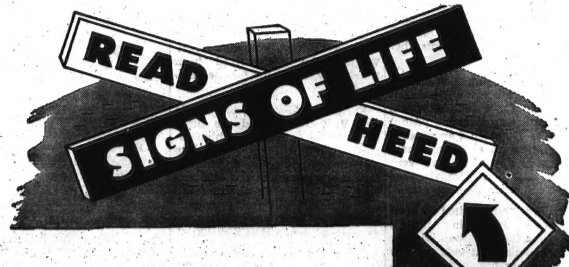

The Dominion Entomologist, has just issued a cutworm forecast for 1953. Areas in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will be affected. There is a simple method which has been found to work well to prevent much of the cutworm damage. It is as follows: Complete all summerfallow work and destroy all weeds on summerfallow by the end of July. Then leave the summerfallow fields undisturbed—taking care that no people or cattle or horses walk across the fields—until about the 15th of September, for during this period, i.e. from August 1 to September 15, the moths fly and are laying their eggs. If the summerfallow is clean and the land has not been disturbed a crust has formed and the cutworm moths will not lay their eggs in fields that are free from weeds and crusted. If, however, in spite of all this a tall weed growth has developed by the third week in August, it is better to give one cultivation and destroy such weeds, particularly in areas where there was a severe infestation of the red back cutworm this present season. Further information on cutworm control can be obtained by writing to the Field Crop Insect Laboratory at Lethbridge, Alberta, or Saskatoon, Sask.

Take Your Time . . . Not Your Life !

Excessive speed is one of the highest single factors involved in highway fatalities. High speeds resulting in miscalculations in judgment or mechanical failure, cause many daylight accidents. Night driving at a speed beyond your lights step up the killing pace. All these accidents would not happen if one of the drivers involved in each case hadn't judged himself either too smart, too skilful, or too lucky to have an accident.

Home Economist News Notes

Another idea sent in by Mrs. Moncrieff, McLaughlin, for you if you've a refrigerator is to make popovers with apple juice (vitaminized apple juice is your best buy) instead of with sweetened water mixtures.

Dresses best suited to little girls 2 to 6 years old are designed especially for a child's way of doing things. Styled for comfort, they allow for growth and freedom of action. The dresses are easy to put on and to fasten; they encourage a child to dress without help. They are dainty, yet sturdy enough for playtime and for frequent washings. Their beauty lies in simple styling, with becoming lines and colors, not in fancy decorations.

In choosing little girls' dresses whether you make them at home or buy ready-mades, consider the following points.

Comfortable Styles

Dresses without belts — little folks don't have waists. Fullness-gathered, pleated, or circular-set in at each side of the front and back looks best and allows for action and growth.

Roomy armholes and short sleeves without cuffs or bands. Bands hampered at movement, and they become tighter as the child grows. Sleeveless dresses, with wings or ruffles for a perky look, are good for hot weather.

Last Wednesday, July 16, the Viking girls softball team, the Comets, journeyed to the Killam Sports to participate in the softball tournament. Other teams in the tourney were Forestburg, Daysland and Killam.

In a game packed with thrills, the Viking girls edged out Forestburg 7 to 6 in an extra inning which kept the fans breathless.

The final game saw Viking vs. Killam and this proved to be the highlight of the day. A combination of hitting power and superb pitching of the Comets led them to victory to the tune of 7 to 6, Viking getting 7 runs in the first inning.

front. Neck lines cut too high are uncomfortable and may soon be outgrown. Collars are bulky and inconvenient under wraps.

Dresses short enough not to be under foot when a child stoops at play. Have little girls' dresses well above the knees, but not too short. Experiment a little to see what length looks best. A 6 to 8 inch hem allows for letting a dress down.

Dresses without fancy trimmings. Dangling trim, and sashes and bows that come untied get in a child's way, hamper action—may even be hazardous. Simply styled dresses that best meet little girls' needs are easy to wash and iron too. They lighten work and save time for mothers.

Lord Chesterfield said: "The less one has to do, the less time one finds to do it." Rather true, I think.

What Good is the Senate
In recent months the Senate has redeemed its position by undertaking a number of valuable jobs. The Senate has brought out some bad points in Federal legislation and has had them corrected. It has made certain studies which have resulted in better understanding of many ideas.

However, the Senate almost wrecked some of the rail rate benefits and would have except for Senator Stambaugh from Bruce who effectively maintained the best interests of this area, but other senators are more conspicuous by their lack of interest.

That situation discloses that this one Senator by maintaining his home in this area is doing a useful job—but by the same token it raises quite a question regarding the others. In the South of the Province, Senator Buchanan, not only takes an active part in local affairs and represents that area effectively, but he also lives in his district and therefore knows what is needed.

If you read the Senate records, you might wonder if Alberta had any other senators because the others don't appear to take much interest in maintaining the western points-of-view in senate debates.

That is quite natural since some of our senators haven't lived here for years and since they haven't—they can't possibly understand our problems.

No person can adequately represent any area unless he lives in the area and keeps in close touch with the situation.

In Britain they went through a period when certain areas were represented by absentee members to the point where those members represented themselves only. It was at that point that a house-cleaning took place and in overhauling the membership or parliament it was seen to that constituencies were real constituencies and were represented by active members.

In Canada, the constitution was designed on the basis of elected and appointed representatives, but in each case these persons were to be representatives—not figure-heads and it is impossible to be a representative if you don't even live in an area, let alone visit it.

This trend has developed slowly until today some senators seem to consider their appointment nothing more than a life salary with no responsibilities attached.

If the Canadian Senate is to be worth keeping, it should be made a definite pre-requisite that membership in the senate entails residence in the area for which the senator is appointed and if the senator finds that he doesn't want to remain, then he should be required to give up his seat to someone who is ready to do so.

Residence isn't even enough. Between sessions a senator should circulate in his area in much the same way as does a member so that the residents can get in touch with him regarding any matters that arise.

Unless such a regulation is applied, the Senate, apart from an energetic and conscientious few will be a waste of public funds.

You're always ready for harvest time with a Massey-Harris Combine

Conditions at harvest time for taking off the crop may be good or bad according to the action of the weather. But when you are mechanized with up-to-date combine equipment you're ready to go when the crop is right in good weather and you can make the most of any favorable conditions during the difficult seasons. Combine harvesting is the easy, low-cost modern way to harvest under normal conditions and in many tough years the combine method has saved the day for farmers.

A modern combine, too, simplifies the harvest labor problem—many farmers handle their crop with little or no extra help at harvest time.

For years Massey-Harris combines have been noted for their outstanding ability—your Massey-Harris local dealer will be glad to give you full details about the latest models.
